

Commonly available “flash drive” USB memory sticks recommended for use with the Peterson ICS-4000.

The following USB-compatible removable memory devices are certified to work properly for transferring files to and from USB-equipped ICS-4000 systems as of November, 2005. One or more of these models can usually be found at any well known local retail store such as Best Buy, Circuit City, Office Depot, Office Max, and the like. They may generally also be purchased online or directly from Peterson.

Other brands and models of USB memory devices may also work, but have not been tested for proper operation and are therefore not recommended at this time.
